

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Cancerous angiogenesis-related diseases treated, and angiogenesis is reduced by administration of a therapeutically effective amount of a composition effective to reduce the effective amount of clusterin in an individual. Preferred therapeutic compositions comprise antisense oligonucleotides which reduce the effective amount of clusterin.